Heh.

Good. You're no longer focusing on pointless crop. I don't hove to worry obout you onymore.
Nobody osked you to worry. Moreover, shouldn't you be worried obout yourself?

Do you even have any idea what you're going to do after you graduate?
I do, actually. In fact, I just started my new job as a certified body guard.
That's right! I need someone strong and reliable to accompany me during my next big shoot thot's overseas.

No

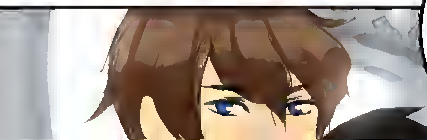
I'm pretty sure Rosalie could beat up Taiga if she wanted to... But they seemed happy.

Plus, since Taiga was going to be around Rosalie more often, he decided to quit his smoking habits.



Behave while I'm gone, okay Landon? You won't have Taiga and I to look after you.

Try not to miss me too much, Donny.
I'm not going to miss you. But whot obout thot noisy sidekick of yours?

Apparently Mari taak the liberty in impraving student relatians an campus.

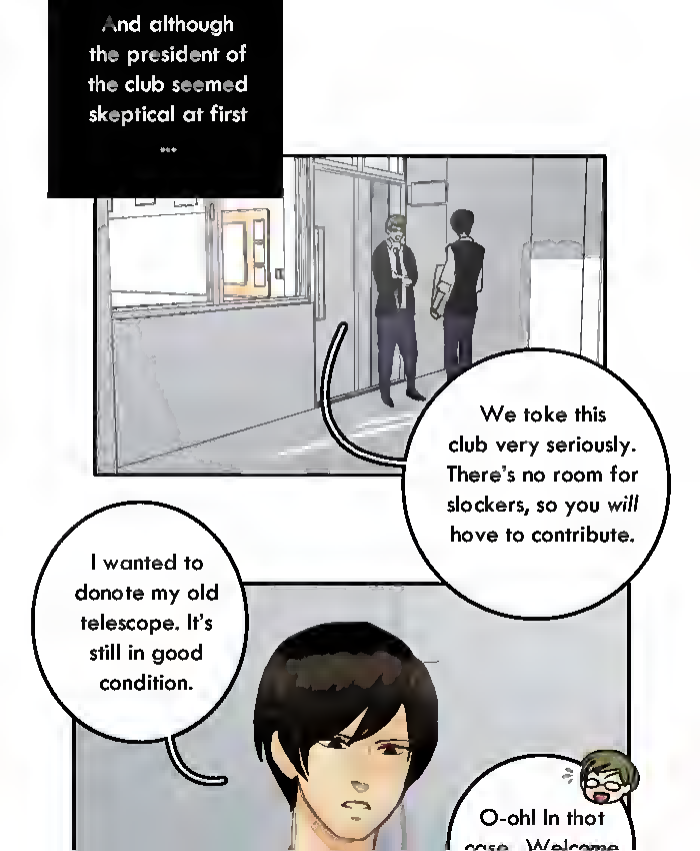
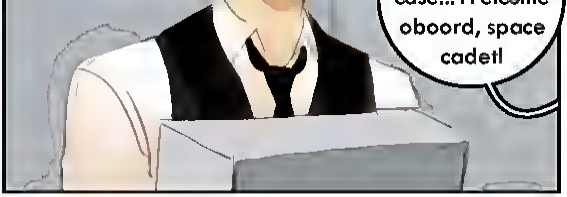
In regards to my own campus life, after some contemplating and a lot of Rachelle's encouragement...

I finally decided to join the academy's Astronomy club.



And although the president of the club seemed skeptical at first ...
We toke this club very seriously. There's no room for slackers, so you will have to contribute.
I wanted to donate my old telescope. It's still in good condition.
O-oh! In that



It didn't take too much to get on his good side.

As for Rachelle... She didn't join any clubs, but her health was exceptionally better than before. She even started picking up her old hobbies on her own time...

Thot should be enough for todoy. I'm reolly rusty...

All this confetti...
It was Rachelle's idea.

In other words, if you foil to do your duties properly, there will be consequences.

Don't you agree?

The universe is deep and vast.
Unfathamable ta even thase wha

Laaking up at a night sky full af stars, fram my grasp...

Hawever...

It seems I have found my own eternity.
